

Monday, July 5, 2004

We've Arrived!

After a long day of airplanes, buses and ferries the Choir has arrived safe and sound in Powell River. By 7:45 pm they had settled into their hotel rooms at the Hyatt, and were ready to head over to the Granada for dinner.

Getting on the bus at Vancouver airport

It is a testament to the conduct of our Choristers that they have been so fondly received by both the hotel and the restaurant. They obviously made a very positive impression four years ago, and they have been warmly greeted on their return.

The next two days will be filled with rehearsals. All of us are learning or becoming reacquainted with the charms of Powell River. Some time on the beach awaits everyone this afternoon. There may also be a chance that they will be singing on a dock this evening.

On the ferry

This will be the first of a few email newsletters. We will keep you posted on the Choirs activities.