

Tuesday Morning, July 6, 2004 – Part B
Settling In

Monday afternoon our singers went up the coast to Mowat Bay for a swim in the ocean. This turned out to be a beautiful spot – and they had the beach practically to themselves. This gave them a great break from the hard work they had put in that morning.

Walking along the pier at Mowat Bay

A beautiful spot and happy kids

The Canadian Navy has two tall sailing ships it uses to train recruits. The choir was asked to come down to the main dock to sing for the sailors of the 'Oriole', the one stationed on the west coast. About 6:45 pm the choir met on board with the crew and their friends and family. They concluded the visit with a few minutes of much appreciated singing.

On board the 'Oriole'

Singing for the crew

The choristers had time for one more rehearsal before settling in for bed. Tonight the Festival starts. We are all looking forward to the Gala Opening and excited about the activities that are planned for the rest of the week. That's it from Powell River – more to come tomorrow.